Read and Review

*Read and Review is sponsored by:
10 To 2 Children's Books Publishing*

Pirates: The Ring of Hope is a story that will be enjoyed by boys and girls ages (10 & up), but this is also the type of book that parents will enjoy reading as well. If you like mystery, suspense and you love humor-- then you need to read Pirates.

Read and Review is a way to earn money for your school. By posting a review of “Pirates: The Ring of Hope” your school will be entered to win $1000.00 for their PTA, PTO and or Home Association. There will be 2 ($1000.00) winners. Each review will count as a separate entry. One winner will be chosen randomly and one winner will be chosen by overall participation (30 reviews per school must be post on Amazon.com between now and June 1st to be considered a qualifying school).

All reviews must be submitted by June 1st -- drawing will be held on June 15th, 2012. Winners will be posted and verifiable.

Kirkus Reviews says that Pirates: The Ring of Hope is [A] spirited swashbuckling tale of mystery and magic.

“Cobb’s 14th book comes complete with pirates, mysterious messages and a magic ring. . . . The characters are rich and beautifully rendered, and the story is sprinkled with humor. . . . Much of the dialogue – especially between Peter and Monk and Antonio and Marcus – is delightfully silly.

. . . [A] spirited swashbuckling tale of mystery and magic.”
